Section 2 Summary of activity & centre staff met

2.1 General comments regarding the day including good practice. For a support visit outline advice, guidance & training provided

Meeting commenced with reference back to the PA1 for this visit and to determine specific timings to observe an assessment.

Also a timetable agreed to meet learners and staff when visiting the facility and resources.

A check was made to ensure all the qualifications being currently delivered were included and available for verification

Thankyou for a comfortable base room and immediate access to the internet.

Worth the comment that the Pa1 visit planner was posted on the walled garden 31.01.2018, but not seen by the centre until early this morning.

Consequently no time at all was available for pre-visit preparation and final checks by the centre.

Therefore today I will see it at as it is.

The assessor was quick to retrieve portfolios from the archive, and also identified a qualification not listed on the Pa1, therefore 6219-01 candidates were added as a random sample.

Last years report was reviewed to remind of the very high standards achieved.

This years portfolios show evolution resulting in great ease of navigation and access to assessment evidence, documentation, and supplementary evidence.

These portfolios are almost as good as can be aspired to.

First class assessor feedback describing the learner journey through each of the assessments.

As good as the best, but to hit gold standard include a more employer focussed words, (examples were discussed) as I know that these portfolios are being used successfully at interview.

Non mandatory photo evidence is extensive and appropriate to reinforce authenticity and value to the portfolio.

The live assessment was conducted in a relaxed non-leading manner.

All resources readily available, H&S observed, results virtually to industry standard, a credit to the teaching and enthusiasm of the candidate.

Every year on my return I see constant evolution, organisation, development of the RWE.

X This is by design a small centre providing excellent pastoral support and a high level of skills training for candidates perhaps disengaged from main line education.

Certainly all the objective questions in this report have been met and frequently exceeded.

But this centre is much more than the parts.

Staff have engaged the young learners, sparked enthusiasm, and initiative.
Constant rapport in the workshop with constant life skills focus.

Simply seeing all working together in cleaning the workshop at the end of the day confirms the deeper training regarded as normal

It is the pastoral ethos delivered in a fun like family manner that is subjective, massively effective, turning young learners lives and making a difference.
